

Limitations

Solution

Customer Success

Source North America Corporation

www.sourcena.com Industry: Fueling Equipment Solutions Headquarters: Addison, IL

About Source North America

Source North America specializes in the sale of equipment, parts and materials for the construction and maintenance of gas stations, convenience stores, and petroleum and chemical handling facilities. Established in 1979, the company has expanded to its current capacity with more than 120,000 square feet of warehouse space across the United States including a central warehouse/distribution facility near their headquarters in suburban Chicago.

As Source North America has grown over the last several years through two strategic acquisitions, having SourceWare as our ERP system allowed us to quickly integrate the data of acquired companies and bring our "new" employees up to speed on the new system. I'm really pleased with the SourceWare ERP platform; the program and Informediate's support and service have far exceeded our expectations.

Glen Corkill, Source North America

Once Source North America selected SourceWare ERP system, Informediate representatives established an implementation and data migration plan. The first step, the discovery phase, allowed for Informediate to conduct a thorough gap analysis. From this analysis, Informediate then constructed a deployment timeline with clear and specific project milestones.

technology solution/partner.

Problem Source North America's existing enterprise platforms

Legacy ERP
Glen Corkill, President of Source North America had support his strategic plans.

SourceWareTM O In 2011, Corkill began working directly with Mike and programs could not support the company's specific plans for growing the company. Corkill market share and revenue predicated largely on

ERP system, PRISM, lacked what was needed to Klemp, CEO of Informediate, to develop a change presented SourceWare ERP as an alternative as it was developed specifically for wholesale distributors and contained the modules, functionality, and business strategy for their legacy ERP system. Klemp processes required of Source North America's developed the company's long-term strategy to grow target acquisitions. With an aggressive growth plan,

Corkill recognized that Source North America's legacy strategic plans to grow revenue through acquisition.

The diligence exercised during these critical first steps proved essential to the success of the go-live process as well as the success of the overall project.

Source North America successfully launched the SourceWare ERP system on January 1, 2012. Since that time the company has acquired two companies with SourceWare enabling the successful integration of the acquired company's inventory and staff. In addition, Source North America has seamlessly expanded and/or relocated three warehouses with SourceWare playing a vital part in the transitions.

Key improvements to the Source North America's operations enabled by SourceWare include:

- Improved executive financial information
- Product delivery signature capture
- On-line credit card processing
- · Access to the system using mobile devices
- Integrated B2B and B2C e-Commerce

SOURCEWARE Powered by Informediate